Our team will ride in honor of Jillian Siegel, who at the age of 20, was lost to acute myeloid leukemia (AML). While her life was short, she lived every moment to the fullest, and focused her energy on addressing the well-being of those around her. She had a particularly soft spot for helping kids, especially those less fortunate than she, and had plans to become a kindergarten teacher and a recreational therapist for children with cancer. Even before discovering that she had cancer herself, as a student at Penn State University, Jill had become passionately involved with the Dance Marathon Charity. Not allowing anything to interfere with her enduring spirit to help others, she continued to raise $3,000 for Thon from her hospital bed while receiving chemo to fight her own AML. Our team now asks you to do for Jill what she had lived to do for others. Let us pick up her torch and help battle the insidious disease of cancer, while celebrating the spirit of someone who continues to teach us to find happiness in helping others.

Please help us to continue Jillian's fight against cancer
